NOTES.

Jones' little girl says her papa can't go to Washington yet awhile.

Early in January Senator Sharon will leave for Washington to attend to his public duties.

What will bring a man down quicker than whisky?—Ex. Trying to run across a croquet ground on a dark night.

A duel is to be fought in Leavenworth by two life insurance agents. The authorities have notified the police not to interfere. Good.

Sanford E. Church is mentioned for the Presidency, but he will find that it is against the American principles to unite Church and State.

Is there any truth in that report that Charlie Ross was found behind the north pole taking observations, whether there would be an open sea this Winter or not?

A Washington dispatch says the financial recommendations of the President and Bristow do not by any means meet with the approval of a majority of the Democrats. Several members of the House have resolutions already prepared repealing the Specie Resumption Act of last January. There is no power that can prevent this question from being discussed, and when it is, the amenities that now exist are bound to go by the board. Talks with leading Democrats, as well as the rank and file, about this subject, give the most perplexing results. Some are in favor of withdrawing all National Bank notes, and issuing a billion or so of greenbacks; some believe in doing nothing; a few are in favor of specie resumption, but there is among Democrats a prevailing desire to repeal the present Specie and Resumption Act. Some members may be imprudent, but the majority will wait the lead of whom they shall designate as their chief.

ANOTHER assessment has been levied upon the Syndicate Fund, Bank of California, payable immediately. It is for ten per cent of the amount subscribed. This makes a total of nearly one-third of the amount pledged by the Syndicate, or thirty per cent. In addition to this, the assessment levied upon the capital stock of the Bank, amounting to $500,000, will be payable by the middle of the coming month. The total assessments so far levied upon the Syndicate Fund and the Bank's capital stock aggregate nearly $3,000,000. It is the intention of the managers of the institution to have the Bank's affairs in thorough order early in January, when the Bank of California will have a full paid capital of $5,000,000.

THE State Board of Centennial Managers met Friday in Carson and appropriated $3,900 for a quartz mill. They propose to run this mill one day in a week and expect to crush fifty tons of ore during the time of the exhibition. A good coffee mill would crush as much in that time, and do the work just as well. We think the erection of this quartz mill for Mr. Stevenson's benefit, is the sheerest nonsense. This little mill will give the people of the East no idea of the milling capacity in Nevada. Five hundred dollars expended in wood engravings and photographs of some of the best mills and furnaces in the State, in our humble opinion, would do the State much more credit.

A SAN FRANCISCO dispatch of the 10th says the steamer Los Angeles arrived at Victoria at 2 P. M. Thursday, having been discovered and taken in tow by H. B. M. gunboat Rocket, twenty miles from port. The engines of the steamer Los Angeles broke down ninety-five miles south of the Columbia river, when 44 hours out from this port. She had been eight days under sail. One seaman was swept overboard during a gale. The news of her safety causes great relief in the community.

WILL THEY DO IT?

The last State political campaign in California was marked by a bitterness seldom equalled, and rarely surpassed, in any canvass. And there was nothing more startling than the attitude that Sargent and Gorham assumed toward the Central Pacific Railroad. For many years they were apparently, and in reality, the pliant tools of that great corporation. They stood high in the counsels of its executive officers. No raid was projected upon the public treasury until the feasibility of the project was endorsed by these underlings; and at the nod of the railway managers Sargent and Gorham set the machinery in motion which was to swell the coffers of their masters. It was they who so dexterously manipulated the wires that made poor poorer, and caused the heart of the honest taxpayer to palpitate with alarm lest his entire estate be wrested from him and invested in those whose rapacious greed seemed to grow upon them, the drunker they became with power. It would be impossible to conceive of closer ties than those which bound Sargent and Gorham to the railroad company. No other instance, familiar to the people of this Coast, is furnished us in modern times, and to find a parallel we must revert those fanciful mythological romances handed down many centuries ago. But all at once a change seemed to come over the spirit of their dreams. And during the campaign, from the rostrum and in public halls, they arraigned their former friends with high crimes and misdemeanors against the people, and boasted that should the opportunity ever be afforded them the law should be invoked for the benefit of the masses. Sargent and Gorham have great power in our National Capital. One is a member of the Senate and the other its Secretary. By virtue of their positions it will be an easy matter for them to carry out their protestations of former friendship toward California's citizens. Let the Senator rise in his seat and call for an investigation of the Contract and Finance Company, now merged into the Western Development Company. He is well aware that it is a second Credit Mobilier. Let him explain to his fellow Senators the unjust discriminations and oppressive exactions practiced toward the people of this Coast by the corporation they assisted to create, and let him demand that his constituents be given justice. Gorham, if he is not a liar, will set his seal of approval upon his friend's remarks, and other men identified with the interests of the slope will extend a cordial hand. Senator Jones and Congressman Woodburn, if we mistake not, will enter heart and soul into a movement calculated to advance the welfare of the land of their adoption. We shall not be surprised if they do not take the initiative in this question, and thus egg away from Mr. Sargent and Mr. Gorham, all the horror likely to be showered upon them, which a carrying out of their published declarations will entitle them to. We await the development of the subject matter with anxiety.

CASUALTIES ON THE SEA.

This is the season of the year when marine disasters are usually the most frequent, on account of the stormy weather incident to the rigors of winter. The report of casualties to vessels in November, in which the United States had an interest, has just been made public. The list embraces 48 vessels, including 27 schooners, the remainder being about equally divided between steamers, ships, barks and brigs. The value of the property destroyed or missing, exclusive of cargoes, is given at $1,046,000. During the same month last year there were 33 marine disasters, involving a loss of $460,000. The list of disasters last month in which San Francisco was interested consisted of the steamer Pacific, wrecked while on her way down from Puget Sound; the ship Orpheus, bound north in ballast; ship Liguria, lost off Callao with a cargo of Puget Sound lumber; bark Camilla Cavour, lost on a similar voyage; bark Florence, lost on her way from Port Discovery with lumber for San Francisco; brig Williamette, lost on her way down from Humboldt with lumber; and the new schooner Sunshine, wrecked while on her way to Coos Bay. The ship Itasca from Baltimore for San Francisco is mentioned as missing, but has since been reported as spoken on the 4th of July in latitude 30 south. She was then 70 days out, and apparently all right, but grave doubts are now entertained of her safety.

SOMETHING MORE ABOUT STEVENSON AND THE CENTENNIAL.

In the article in the Enterprise already alluded to Mr. Stevenson charges that Mr. Whitehill was obliged to make the confession to Messrs. Rice and Yerington that he had written a letter to the editor of the Sentinel. He evidently wishes to impress the public with the idea that Messrs. Rice and Yerington on one side and Mr. Whitehill on the other are responsible for all the Centennial troubles. This is in accordance with our estimate of the man. So long as there is a prospect of the successful accomplishment of an enterprise in which he has been employed he is perfectly willing to take all the credit of it to himself, no matter whether he deserves it or not, but the moment trouble arises he tries to crawl out of it and shift the responsibility on others. Since Mr. Stevenson has shown such a spirit of cowardice and desire to capsize others for his shortcomings, we have taken the trouble to carefully inquire into the Centennial affair. The facts regarding this letter of Whitehill to the Sentinel are these: After the row with the Executive Committee on Nov. 13th Mr. Whitehill went to his office in the Capitol. He was soon followed by a messenger from the Committee, who demanded the minutes of the State Board of Commissioners and also Mr. Whitehill's private note books. The messenger was requested to return and say that Mr. Whitehill did not recognize their authority to make any such demand. Subsequently Mr. Whitehill returned to the presence of the Committee with some bills which were due him for settlement, and finding the members in a better humor to listen to him than when he had left, he informed them that he had no desire to prevent their seeing the minutes, but he did deny their right to make any such demand; that in the future he should not recognize their authority in the management of Centennial affairs and there was nothing in the law or in their minutes giving any such authority as they had assumed. On the promise of the Committee that the minutes should be returned they were permitted to see them. After an examination of the minutes and the Centennial Act the committee were convinced that Mr. Whitehill was right. Mr. Stevenson then in his assumed position as Chairman of the State Board wrote out a call for a meeting to be held November 20th, and Mr. Whitehill, as Secretary, was requested to give notice to the members. Having written a notice to each member of the Board giving notice of the meeting, he wrote out a notice for publication and carried it to the Appeal office. This notice he gave to Mr. Mighels and asked him to publish it. The latter then said, "Whitehill, you are altogether in the wrong in this matter; you should not have acted so hastily." "How do you know?" said Mr. Whitehill. "Well," said Mighels, "I saw Stevenson on the street and had a short talk with him, and also Rice and Yerington, and the fact of the business is just this, you undertook to make Rice and Yerington shake old Stevenson, their co-worker, right in his face and they would not do it. You are decidedly in the wrong." Mr. W. replied that this was a mistake. He had not thought of such a thing, and certainly had made no such attempt. He then asked Mighels if he had time to hear his side of the story. "No," said Mighels, "I am too busy now, but will hear you to-morrow or some other time." After this conversation Mr. Whitehill returned to his office strongly impressed with the idea that the members of the Executive Committee had misunderstood him and were extremely anxious to have the newspaper men think as they did. In less than two hours after the trouble with the committee every member had talked with Mighels on the subject, and had so brought him to their way of thinking, that although friendly with Whitehill, he did not hesitate to censure him. In this state of mind Mr. Whitehill wrote a letter to the Eureka Sentinel, knowing that he had not acted in the foolish manner represented. As to the charge of Mr. Stevenson, that Mr. Whitehill has not been out of his office for two years, every one knows that to be a lie. There is not a man in the State who reads the papers but knows that Mr. Whitehill, in company with Prof. Stewart, has visited every mining town and district in the State during last Summer; that for the past six months he has spent his whole time in collecting a cabinet of minerals to be taken to Philadelphia, under the direction of the Board of Managers. As to Mr. Whitehill's being obliged to make a confession to Yerington and Rice. This statement is made in Mr. Stevenson's usual spirit of cowardice.

At the meeting of the State Board, a reporter was present, and from his synopsis of the proceedings, we are under the impression that Mr. Whitehill was not at all intimidated by either Mr. Stevenson or any other member present to make any statement which was at all unpleasant to him. A committee of Mr. Stevenson's friends had invited Mr. Mighels to be present in order to report the proceedings of this meeting. They had a number of cut and dried resolutions of censure on Mr. W. which they intended passing and they wished a reporter there to see the fun and report it, as they also suspected that Mr. Whitehill, as Secretary, would make a garbled report of the proceedings. So the editor of the Appeal went, heard and reported the proceedings of this meeting, and although Stevenson brought him there, yet now he accuses Mighels of being in Whitehill's interest. The fact is that Mr. M. made a very fair report. After hearing Mr. Whitehill's side of the story for the first time Mr. Mighels asked permission to say a few words to the Board of which this is the substance: Gentlemen, you are making a good deal of fuss about your affairs having got into the newspapers through Mr. Whitehill. Now you have brought me here to report the proceedings of this meeting, I shall try and report them fairly, but let me tell you if I do make a full report, it will create more of a breeze than anything that has been said heretofore. I am anxious that there should be harmony, that all differences should be settled and the work of this Centennial made a success. Do you still desire me to report the proceedings of this meeting? There was a difference of opinion, even Ben Leete said: Gentlemen, I do not believe that the publication of our proceedings would conserve to public morals. I am a moral man, and do not believe in pandering to this morbid taste of the public. Now in my business I keep my own affairs to myself, I have a model system for conducting my business, and the result is: I have the best established and flourishing business in the State of Nevada. Sirs, if you are going to publish the proceedings of this meeting, the people will know of something which they have no business to hear. Leete is Stevenson's friend; he feared that if the public could hear Mr. Whitehill's side of the story Mr. Stevenson's Centennial plans could not so easily be carried out. A majority of the members desired Mr. Mighels to publish a full report, so Yerington said: Mighels do you publish what in your judgment is a fair report? These are facts which no member of the State Board of Centennial Managers can deny, and yet in the face of them Stevenson assails Bro. Mighels for being in Whitehill's interest.

HOODLUM RAID.—Chief of Police Ellis, in conformity with his intention—expressed in his inaugural to the force—to rid San Francisco of hoodlums, commenced operations on Friday evening. A number of officers were detailed to patrol the streets in citizen's dress and arrest all engaged in noisy or annoying conduct. As a consequence the City Prison contains a very large delegation of young men who have been in the habit of making themselves obnoxious to all respectable and peaceable citizens.

THE Redington Company at Napa are supplying Flood & O'Brien, at Virginia City, with 400 flasks of quicksilver per month, at $1.50 a pound, on contract which has a year and a half longer to run. As the company are getting about double current price, they may be said to have struck it rich when they made that contract.

The advices from the Belcher mine are of an encouraging nature. The daily yield is 480 tons of ore. The gross product for November was $445,220; expense, $241,515; net yield, $203,705.

CROPS OF THE UNITED STATES.

The following extracts are taken from the printed monthly report of Agriculture for November and December:

CORN—November returns indicate that the crop of 1875 was one of the largest ever grown in the country, probably equalling the very large crops of 1870 and 1872. It is at least one-fourth greater than the crop of 1874, and about one-third larger than the crop of 1869, as reported in the last census. The quality of the crop is below that of 1874. In most of the States, and especially in the States north of Ohio, floods and storms were especially destructive to crops in the large valleys, but the injury from this source was greatly exaggerated in the first reports of the newspaper press.

On the Pacific Coast the quality of the crop is nearly equal to last year's.

COTTON—The November returns make a direct comparison of the product of this year with that of 1874, as the former reports of its condition have indicated. The States bordering on the Atlantic all show reduced products, and those in the Mississippi Valley an increased yield. Prior to November 1st, killing frosts had appeared in the more northern States of the cotton belt. In some countries of Northern Georgia, and in districts north of the Tennessee river, in Alabama, and elsewhere, the cotton plant is uninjured, and generally in vigorous growth on the best lands.

From a review of the monthly returns of correspondents, it appears that the area in cotton was increased about two per cent. It may be said that accurate figuring of November make the per centages of an aggregate yield, approximating 390,000 bales, not 50,000 less, as some have calculated, and it is almost certain the crop for the season will pass the limit of 400,000 bales.

TOBACCO—The November returns indicate an increase in the tobacco yield of over 75 per cent, as compared with last year, when a partial failure was experienced. All the large tobacco States show a marked increase of production, especially Tennessee and Kentucky. The New England crop increased about 10 per cent, in quantity. The other tobacco States of the Atlantic slope indicate an increased production and improved quality. Georgia and the Gulf States show an increased yield. The yield of Tennessee increased enormously over last year. In all the States west of the Mississippi there is a great increase. Charleston and Howard counties, Missouri, will probably market ten million pounds each, of a fine quality.

In Contra Costa county, California, an experiment in tobacco culture upon thirty acres of dry soil, unirrigated, was quite successful. It is thought that California can raise a very fine article of smoking tobacco.

OUR TOWN ROUTE.

Mr. Chas Thurston will hereafter have charge of the town route of the JOURNAL, delivering the paper to subscribers, and to him alone will they be responsible for payment from and after this date. All persons owing to the present time will please call at this office and settle their accounts. Mr. Thurston will deliver the paper promptly, and no one will have cause for complaint on this score. If you wish the JOURNAL at your place of business or residence give him your order.

TOWN IMPROVEMENTS.—Good progress is being made on Shaffer's and Jamison's residences, and they will soon be ready for occupancy. These new houses are far superior to the old ones, and in this respect the late fire was of some account. Notwithstanding the lateness of the season several new houses are in course of construction in various parts of town and the intention probably is to keep on slowly until Spring, when the building mania will again set in. The present fair weather enables many to make needed improvements to dwellings and outhouses to make them secure for the winter season.

DOMINO PARTY.—The "Home Circle" Club will give a domino party at Dyer's Hall on Christmas Eve. The Committee of Arrangements have been authorized to procure dominoes and masks, and upon proper application will furnish the same to those who intend participating. Cards of invitation will be issued in a few days. This is done to prevent any disreputable characters from "ringing in." The price of admission will be $2.50. The best of music will be engaged, and altogether we can look for a novel and enjoyable time at this domino party.

A MISTAKE.—In our issue of the 11th we stated that Mr. Stevenson had secured a debt from Mr. Stewart of $530 by an order on the State Controller. This is a mistake—we should have said $550. Mr. Stevenson acknowledges the fact to the editor of the Appeal. We do not begrudge him the small grain of comfort he can gather from this correction, but would like to know why he required from Mr. Stewart an order for $860.

EXHORTATION.—Quite an excitement was created on Virginia street yesterday afternoon by an individual who "took the stand," and proceeded to exhort his hearers to "Come to Jesus." We did not notice any flying to the sacred precincts, as the result of our religious friend's exhortation, and he soon found himself talking to thin air, and dejected, he left the stand. It will probably take five men to incorporate him in a day or two—if he keeps up his present strain.

MISTAKE.—We made a mistake in saying the Reno Library and Social Club's party would come off next Thursday evening. We should have said Tuesday.

GOING EAST.—Mr. Geo. Doremor, one of our most substantial farmers, leaves for the East to-morrow, where he will spend the winter. He will return in the Spring and a little bird whispers to us he will bring with him Mrs. George.

OPENING SERVICES will be held in the Episcopal Church this morning. Bishop Whitaker will preach both morning and evening. Services at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sunday School will meet at the church after morning service.

COMMISSIONERS.—The Board of County Commissioners will be in session to-morrow, and in due time our readers will know what business the county "dada" transacted.

BAPTIST service will be held at the new Reno Opera House on Virginia street, to-day at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Rev. C. L. Fisher officiating. All invited to attend.

Rev. W. J. Clark will preach at the Congregational Church, at eleven o'clock this morning, and in the evening at 7 o'clock. All are invited.

DIVINE services will be held in the M. E. Church to-day, at 11 A. M. and at 7 P. M., also Sabbath school at 2 P. M. Rev. G. W. Fitch, Pastor.

THERE will be Mass in the Catholic Church to-day, Father Kern officiating.

YESTERDAY, Deputy U. S. Marshal received a warrant for the arrest of E. D. Kelley, publisher of the Silver State, from the District Court of the United States at Carson, for the offense of depositing in the U. S. post-office, for mailing and delivery, newspapers containing a quick advertisement for the prevention of conception and for procuring abortion. Mr. Kelley leaves this evening for Carson City, together with several witnesses on the part of the United States. If we understand the matter right, the case is based upon the paragraph in the quick advertisement of Dr. Doherty, published in the Silver State, directed "To females."—Winnemucca Register of Friday.

The London Times has an editorial on President Grant's message. Referring to that part about Spain and Cuba it says:

If Spain cannot suppress the Cuban rebels, if the island must be half ruined while she holds it, if she will not put an end to that institution which is the main source of disturbance, it would be hard to expect the United States to let the work of devastation proceed unchecked merely out of regard to the nominal sovereignty of Spain. Spain is on trial, and the limits of her power to restore order will be the limits of her rights.

THE Senate Committees are announced. Jones is Chairman of the Committee to audit and control the Contingent Expenses of the Senate, and a member of the Finance, and Post-office and Post-roads. Sharon is on Territories, Mines and Mining, and Education and Labor.

THE news concerning the $30,000 race is somewhat contradictory. Some members of the Jockey Club say that the race will come off Christmas. Others declare it is indefinitely postponed, and that, if set for the holidays, the horses could not run, being out of training and still suffering from distemper.
